

Delaying Redistrict Test Suit

Judge Blair Grants Continuance to Let Foes Study New Petition by MFA

JEFFERSON CITY (P) — A week's delay in a circuit court test of the Republicans' redistricting referendum was ordered by Circuit Judge Sam C. Blair today.

The suit was brought nine days ago by the Missouri Farmers Association. It alleged the petitions brought in by the Republicans were not sufficient to put the controversial congressional redistricting act on the ballot—and thus force 1952 congressional candidates to run on a statewide basis.

But today the MFA attorneys brought in an amended petition in the case. It followed the same principles set out in the original suit but went into more detail on alleged fraudulent signatures and errors.

Test Begins Monday

Groups attempting to uphold the legality of the referendum asked and got more time to study the new petition. Thus the actual start on the test case was postponed until a week from today.

Meanwhile Secretary of State Walter H. Toberman was barred by a court restraining order from doing anything further in certifying the 103 congressional candidates to county clerks.

The law says he must have that done by tomorrow. But the restraining order will prevent him from going any further, at least until next Monday.

There are three parties in the case to support the referendum action by the GOP.

Demos Defend GOP Move

The attorney general's office was represented as legal counsel for Toberman, who accepted the referendum petitions. That put two Democrats, Assistant Attorneys General Arthur M. O'Keefe and Gilbert Lamb, in the unusual position of indirectly defending a Republican referendum petition.

State Sen. Charles L. Madison, Kansas City Republican, got into the suit because he is a candidate for Congress if the election is statewide this year—that is, if the referendum is upheld.

His argument is that his position as a candidate is jeopardized by the MFA suit.

Also in the case is State Rep. J. B. Moore of Caldwell County, a Republican, who entered the suit as a citizen and taxpayer. His intervention is actually the defense being put up by the Republican State Committee, sponsor of the referendum move.

Warns Lawyers to Rush

With so many parties in the suit, it appeared difficult to set a new date for the first full scale hearing. Various attorneys pleaded they had other suits they must give attention to.

But Judge Blair said if they wanted to take part in the key redistricting suit they must be prepared to make haste.

"We can't dawdle all summer," he said.

P. L. Edwards of Kansas City, attorney for Senator Madison, tried vainly to get Judge Blair to rescind his restraining order and thus allow Toberman to send the candidate lists out.

But Judge Blair ruled that if Toberman could complete the action of certifying the candidates to county clerks on a statewide basis there would then be nothing left to base the case on.

He kept the restraining order in force.

Under the new schedule, all parties must file their answers to the MFA suit by Saturday and be prepared to argue the case beginning next Monday.

Seek Cases of Fraud

The MFA has had investigators checking the referendum petitions for the past week, seeking individual cases of possible fraud. If enough names in at least three congressional districts can be proved illegal, the referendum move could be thrown out.

In the Third District of Northwestern Missouri the petitions carried only three more than the necessary number of signatures. Even Republicans admitted it would be comparatively easy to disqualify the petitions there.

Meanwhile, the St. Louis Post-Dispatch said today it has found widespread illegal signatures to knock out both the Third and 13th Congressional District petitions.

The Weather

FAIR tonight and Tuesday. Warmer Tuesday. Low tonight near 54. High Tuesday in the 70s.

The temperature at 7 a. m. was 38 degrees above zero; 63 at 1 p. m. and 65 at 2 p. m.

Lake of Ozarks: 5.8; rise .2.

Gen. Dodd Says POWs Threatened to Kill Officers Him If Army Tried to Rescue Him By Force

Gen. Clark Says Some Concessions Given for Release

SEOUL, Korea (P) — Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd said tonight Communist prisoners of war who held him hostage on Kojima Island four days last week threatened to kill him if the U. S. Eighth Army tried to rescue him by force.

Gen. Mark W. Clark, new supreme U. N. commander, said in Tokyo the Red POWs were granted some minor concessions. He termed their original demands for Dodd's release "unadulterated blackmail." He seemed to hint they would not be honored.

Clark said the reply to the prisoners "was made under duress at a time when the life of General Dodd was at stake."

"Any commitments made ... as a result of such demands should be interpreted accordingly."

Threats Had Effect

Dodd read a statement to correspondents saying he was convinced the United Nations Command threats to use force "had a decided effect" in obtaining his release Saturday night.

The correspondents were not permitted to question the general. It was the first time they had been allowed to see him.

Dodd said he was well treated by the Reds while a captive in Compound 76 on the island — the U. N. No. 1 camp for tough prisoners. He seemed healthy.

The general said demands made by the prisoners in exchange for his release were "inconsequential" and that concessions granted by the camp authorities were "of minor importance."

Newsman Visit Koje

Newsman were permitted to visit Koje today for the first time since the Wednesday seizure of Dodd, then prison camp commander there. There are 6,000 prisoners there.

Stockade officers said the prisoners apparently had planned the capture at least a week in advance. Within minutes after they seized Dodd, the Reds broke out banners saying:

"We captured Dodd. If our problems are resolved his security is guaranteed. If there is any brutal act or shooting, his life is in danger."

Clark said a full investigation of "the violent and treacherous kidnapping of Dodd and the circumstances surrounding the negotiations and his ultimate release" is underway.

Gen. Colson in Command

Brig. Gen. Charles Colson, Charleston, S. C., was placed in command of the Koje camp on Thursday, the day after Dodd was seized.

The general described a preliminary meeting at which the prisoners explained their grievances about "food, clothing, medical supplies" and several alleged "injuries to the prisoners." They gave him a chance to reply, then voted on the answer.

Housed in a Tent

He said the meeting was presided over by Col. Lee Bak Koc, "elected leader" of a prisoner association inside the compound. "It appeared that in all cases (of dispute) Colonel Lee ruled in my favor," said Dodd.

The general said he was housed in a blanket-covered room in a "previously prepared tent."

There were "rice mats" on the floor, a built-in bunk, a table with flowers and a rack on which to hang my clothes," said Dodd.

He also said the Communists had planned to release him during a flower-decked ceremony on May 11. They planned to garland the general with wreaths and march him between rows of POWs when they turned him over to Gen. Colson.

Dodd said he told the Communists that since he had agreed to several of the Red demands, he expected them to live up to their bargain to release him as soon as he had accepted.

The Reds finally agreed and escorted Dodd to the gate at 9:30 p. m.

Requested an Interview

The general explained his capture came about shortly after he was lured to the gate of Compound 76 at 2 p. m. Wednesday by a request for an interview from the "spokesman" of the compound.

He said the interview consisted of the usual Communist complaints.

Dodd said he had decided to break off the meeting when the Reds suddenly seized him at 3:15 and dragged him inside the compound. The statement did not mention Lt. Col. Wilbur Raven, who escaped when the Reds tried to grab him along with Dodd.

Then, the general said, a series of daily meetings was held with the prisoners. The Reds demanded the right to organize an association and read Dodd a long list of injuries which they said had happened to prisoners. Dodd was asked to disclose this list one by one.

Colson Signs Agreement

A drafted agreement embodying details of the proposed organization was completed and handed Colson for signing. Colson signed, and after a series of translation fustings Dodd was finally released.

Dies In Fall Into Sulphuric Acid Tank

LANSING, Mich. (P) — A window washer fell into tank full of sulphuric acid at the Oldsmobile plant here yesterday and died within seconds.

An employee of the Industrial Window Cleaning Co. of Lansing, the victim was identified as Leo Cunningham, about 50.

Clark's statement said Colson agreed to:

1. Do all within his power to eliminate violence and bloodshed on Koje. (90 POWs and one American guard were killed in two Koje POW riots in February and March).

2. Stop "forcible screening or any rearming of prisoners of war in this camp" and not make any attempt "at nominal screening."

3. Allow the organization of a POW representative group or commission consisting of North Korean and Chinese prisoners.

Clark said:

"The reply by General Colson to the Communist prisoners was made under duress at a time when the life of General Dodd was at stake. The Communist demands were unadulterated blackmail and any commitments made by General Colson as a result of such demands should be interpreted accordingly."

Clark did not say whether the commitments would be honored.

UN Says Commies Use Talks For Propaganda Sound-Off

Reds Fire Most Vicious Attack Today

And Admiral Joy Tells Them That UN Will Not Allow Propaganda Purposes

MUNSAN, Korea (P) — The United Nations Command today sharply accused the Communists of using the Korean armistice talks for a propaganda sounding board.

A UNC communique said the Reds fired "their most vicious propaganda attack of the 16-month-old armistice negotiations" in a 34-minute "tirade, obviously prepared in advance" and "filled with invective, distortions and palpable lies."

Another plenary session was scheduled for 11 a. m. Tuesday (9 p. m. EST, Monday). But Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, senior UN delegate, told the Reds the U. N. Command "formally disassociates itself from the propaganda purposes for which you are utilizing these meetings."

North Korean Gen. Nam, II charged in today's session that the Allies mistreated Red prisoners of war.

Never before had newsman covering the negotiations in Panmunjom seen the usually mild-mannered Adm. Joy so angry. After the 25-minute session, he said:

"We were subjected today to one of the most vicious propaganda blasts we have ever had. The Communists told us effect that unless we intend to disrupt the meetings they would insist on meeting every day and use these meetings overtly for propaganda although they did not use those words."

Nam II again flatly rejected Joy's proposal for an indefinite recess until the Communists have something concrete to offer.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckols, U. N. Command spokesman, said the Reds have instructions to insist on continuing the talks and "to utilize them entirely for a propaganda sounding board. This appears to be a course of action."

The talks are tightly deadlocked over the exchange of prisoners.

The U. N. Command has demanded voluntary repatriation of POWs. The Reds have insisted that all held by the UNC be returned, by force if necessary.

More than half the Red prisoners held by the Allies have said they will forcibly resist being returned to Red rule.

Joy opened Monday's debate with a statement that he had "some brief remarks to make." But Nam II interrupted to say he had a statement to make.

Joy cut in: "I also have a statement to make and I indicated my intentions first."

Joy declared:

"It has long been evident that your side dares not admit before the world that some of your captured personnel could not be returned to you without the use of force."

"It is obvious that you are not willing to verify this fact for yourselves by participating in an impartial screening after the signing of an armistice."

"In order to avoid facing up to

Allied officers have been screening prisoners of war and civilian internees to determine whether they would resist being returned to North Korea or China after an armistice. What was meant by "retro Koje POW riots in February and March."

3. Allow the organization of a POW representative group or commission consisting of North Korean and Chinese prisoners.

Clark said:

"The reply by General Colson to the Communist prisoners was made under duress at a time when the life of General Dodd was at stake. The Communist demands were unadulterated blackmail and any commitments made by General Colson as a result of such demands should be interpreted accordingly."

Clark did not say whether the commitments would be honored.

UN Saturation Bombing Rips Red Rail Line

Blast Designed To Make Repairing As Hard As Possible

SEOUL, Korea (P) — United Nations warplanes today blasted the North Korean rail network with another of their new saturation bombings designed to make track repairs as tough as possible for the Reds.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said fighter-bombers made 28 runs in a short stretch on the vital Kangrye-Sinaju line near Huichon in the northwest. Nine U. S. B29s hit the Huichon rail bridge yesterday with 90 tons of bombs. Fighter-bombers cratered rails in more than 80 places on a small section south of Suncheon at the same time.

The stretches of track are on main rail routes from Manchuria to the North Korean capital, Pyongyang.

In the past two weeks, U. N. warplanes have been concentrating bombloads in short sections on the main lines. This makes repair work more difficult for the Red track crews, who have been able overnight to repair cuts by only a few bombs.

U. S. Marine corsairs and panther jets attacked Communist front lines today. They dealt serious blows Monday. The Air Force said they wrecked 16 bunkers and destroyed eight gun positions with explosives.

A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer said a "rough little fight" broke out Sunday when 15 grenade-throwing Reds struck at a United Nations position northeast of Kumhwa on the Central Front in the Mundung Valley.

The Eighth Army said it killed 1,149 Reds, wounded 1,364 and captured 21 from May 1 through May 7. It was a drop of more than 400 casualties from the previous week.

U. N. warships bombarded Red supply areas, gun and troop positions on both coasts of North Korea Sunday.

South Korean police said two of their men and one Communist guerrilla were killed Friday night when about 50 guerrillas attacked the town of Hamyang, 45 miles west of Pusan deep in South Korea. Three civilians were kidnapped by the raiders and 10 homes and two warehouses destroyed by fire.

Prison Head Ignores Cons' Hunger Strike

Also Overlooks Charge He Threatened To Kill a Newsman

ANGOLA, La. (P) — A Louisiana prison head ignored today a hunger and work strike by 120 convicts and accusations that he threatened to kill a radio newsman who questioned prisoners.

The white convicts in the camp for first offenders at the state penitentiary went on strike five days ago protesting long working hours in the prison farm's cane fields.

James Van Sickle, radio news director for station KWKK at Shreveport, La., sought to obtain interviews yesterday from a group of the striking convicts.

Van Sickle said when Superintendent D. D. Bazer found him talking to prisoners he drew his pistol and said, "I'm going to kill you."

The newsman said he had been invited to the prison by Deputy Warden L. H. Mullins.

"I don't care nothing about what Van Sickle says," Bazer said. "I'm not going to admit anything. If he wants to go to court with it, that's all right."

Van Sickle said after Bazer threatened his life with the pistol "he came at me and struck a blow which I partially blocked."

Van Sickle said after Bazer had struck at him, he realized that he could no longer maintain his position and decided to leave.

Bazer has constantly refused to allow newsmen to enter the prison, where more than 30 convicts slashed heel tendons last year protesting "brutality" by guards.

The prison is located on an 18,000-acre farm 7 miles north of the state capital at Baton Rouge. About 2,500 convicts are confined here.

The hunger strike went unreported until a New Orleans newspaper received an anonymous phone call.

"The reply by General Colson to the Communist prisoners was made under duress at a time when the life of General Dodd was at stake. The Communist demands were unadulterated blackmail and any commitments made by General Colson as a result of such demands should be interpreted accordingly."

Mississippi Demos Won't Compromise

JACKSON, Miss. (P) — Mississippi's Democratic leaders said plainly today there would be no compromise on what they called anti-Southern legislation in the national party's platform.

They also asserted there would be no compromise on any candidate willing to run on a platform containing "civil rights," fair employment practices commission (FEPC), and other anti-Southern planks.

A statement on the Democrats' position was issued here by Tom J. Tubb, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee, and W. W. Wright, chairman of the party's campaign committee.

Would Limit Jet Airplanes For All Allies

Sen. Knowland Wants U. S. Air Force First To Have All Needed

WASHINGTON (P) — Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) today proposed shipments of jet planes to American Allies be limited to 10 per cent of the nation's production until the U. S. Air Force is fully equipped with jets.

He offered this as an amendment to the $6,900,000,000 foreign aid bill now before the Senate Armed Services committee.

The committee put off acting on the Knowland proposal until tomorrow. Acting Chairman Byrd (D-Va.) said the group wanted to hear testimony of some of the nation's top military air experts before voting.

Knowland declined to say whether it is proposed under the Mutual Assistance program to send more than 10 per cent of American jet production to other nations. He said this was secret information but commented "you can draw your own conclusions from my amendment." He also would not say what countries are getting American jets.

Before the jet plane issue was raised, Knowland had said the Armed Services group was ahead of schedule and might get the multi-billion dollar foreign aid bill back to the Senate tomorrow.

The Californian said his amendment did not involve any cut in the authorization measure which already has been slashed one million dollars by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to a total of $6,900,000,000.

Knowland told the Senate last week in arguing to have the bill referred to the Armed Services Committee he feared the Mutual Aid program might mean shortages of equipment in the Korean fighting and in the build-up of U. S. military forces.

Byrd announced these witnesses would be heard tomorrow: Air Force Secretary Thomas K. Finletter; Gen. Nathan Twining, acting chief of staff of the Air Force; Vice Adm. John Cassady, deputy chief of Naval operations for air; and a representative of the Mutual Assistance Administration.

Knowland said he did not mean for the "fully equipped" reference in his bill to apply to all groups planned by this country but not yet in being. It would apply only to groups already activated, he said.

Late News Bulletins

Queen Elizabeth Will Receive Gen. and Mrs. Ike

LONDON (P) — Queen Elizabeth will receive Gen. Dwight Eisenhower and Mrs. Eisenhower when they visit London Thursday and Friday. The Eisenhowers also will be dinner guests of Prime Minister Churchill and Mrs. Churchill.

Farm Bureau Asks Wage, Price Controls Removed

WASHINGTON (P) — The American Farm Bureau Federation called today for outright removal of price and wage controls. Spokesmen for other farm groups urged Congress to vote for suspending or lifting price ceilings on specific agricultural commodities.

Allan B. Kline, president of the Farm Bureau Federation, told the House Banking Committee "there will never be a better time than now to drop these unworkable controls."

House Orders Investigation Of Radio and TV Programs

WASHINGTON (P) — The House today ordered an investigation of television and radio programs.

The objective is to drive immoral or otherwise offensive matter from the airwaves through legislation to be recommended following the study by the House committee.

Ike Wins In R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (P) — The Rhode Island Republican convention overrode the wishes of the state GOP organization today and voted to give its eight votes in the national convention to General Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Kidnaped Girl Unharmd, Terrified But Unharmed

SEATTLE (P) — A kidnaped 13-year old girl, whose abductor left a crude ransom note demanding $4,000 in her parent's mailbox, was found terrified but apparently unharmd north of the city limits today.

She was Linda Lambeth, daughter of Mrs. William L. Carlin. She was lying on a roadside, dazed and hysterical when sheriff's deputies found her.

Seizure Hearings By Court

Supreme Tribunal Begins Getting Testimony on HST Grab of Steel Mills

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (P) — President Truman's seizure of the steel industry was attacked in the Supreme Court today as a "usurpation" of power, impelled by no necessity, and defended as an act vital to the national security.

Presenting the divergent arguments to the black-robed justices were John W. Davis of New York, attorney for the steel industry, and Philip B. Perlman, solicitor general and acting attorney general.

WASHINGTON (P) — Arguments on the legality of President Truman's seizure of the steel mills began before the Supreme Court today.

John W. Davis, speaking for six major steel companies, led off for the industry in its efforts to have the high tribunal uphold District Judge David A. Pine's ruling last month the seizure was unlawful.

Philip B. Perlman, solicitor general and acting attorney general, waited his turn to plead for a reversal of Pine's decision.

All of the approximately 300 seats in the high domed, marble-pillared court room were occupied when the court convened.

Will Be Historic Ruling

The court's ruling, whenever it comes, will be of historic importance.

But the big question — whether the President has inherent powers under the constitution to seize strike - threatened private industries in national emergencies — may go unanswered. The tribunal could rule in any one of a number of ways without deciding the momentous constitutional issue.

The court, which often spends an hour or more handing down opinions on Monday, disposed of this chore in a few moments today.

Alias Basil Willing

By Helen McCloy

Copyright 1951 by Helen McCloy Dresser, printed through permission of the publisher, Random House, Inc. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Jack Dugan, a private detective, was poisoned after borrowing Dr. Basil Willing's name. Linked with Dugan's murder is the death of Miss Katherine Shaw, aged and blind, who apparently was to meet Dugan at the home of Dr. Zimmer, a psychiatrist. Brinsley, a nephew of Miss Shaw, and Charlotte Dean, her secretary, cannot shed light on Miss Shaw's death. Basil calls on Rosamund Yorke and her husband, Theodore, who also were at Zimmer's home the night Dugan died. There Basil meets Port Stephen Lawrence, while Basil is talking about Dugan's death. Perditia, the poet's daughter, faints.

XIII
AFTER Perditia Lawrence had revived, Yorke went to the bar. Stephen Lawrence drew Basil Willing aside.

"Dr. Willing, I know your reputation as a psychiatrist. Do you know Dr. Zimmer? I mean do you know his work?"

"No, I've only met him once." Lawrence frowned. "He's pleasant and plausible. Essentially a woman's psychiatrist, I should say."

"He has male patients—Brinsley Shaw for one."

"Brinsley isn't very male. I wonder sometimes if Zimmer is really doing Perditia any good. It was I who urged her to go to a psychiatrist. She was too emotional, too sensitive. Rosamund recommended Zimmer and Perditia's been his patient for three months now, but she's no better. She's worse."

"That's the beginning of cure sometimes, but . . . You should have a talk with Zimmer."

"I can't talk to him. He's not my sort. It's asking a great deal on such short acquaintance, but I wonder if you would talk to him for me?"

"I'll be glad to, but the best way is to ask Zimmer to call me into consultation."

Lawrence frowned. "I'll do that."

And there's something else I'd like you to do first, if you will." "What is it?" "Talk to a young man named Frank Lloyd. He's in love with Perditia and sometimes a lover knows more than a father. You can find him any afternoon in his office at the New York Star. Am I asking too much?" Basil thought of the complexities of medical etiquette. Then he looked at Lawrence and saw the deep anxiety in the frail, old face. "I'll do it as soon as you arrange the consultation. After all, your 'Song of Sin' has always been one of my favorite sonnets."

THE country club stood on high ground overlooking Long Island Sound. Tree-shaded lawns and clipped hedges sloped down to a golf course near the water's edge. Through the fading light of the long spring evening shone an arch of lights, outlining the rounded top of the great window. Dancers could be seen gliding soundlessly behind the glass.

"Fairland!" exclaimed Gisela. Cynthia Willing's handsome face hardened as she looked at her new sister-in-law. Her friends would label Gisela "unsophisticated" if she went about expressing admiration so artlessly.

"It's really a rather boring place," warned Cynthia. "But your unpredictable husband wants to meet these Canning people accidentally-on-purpose, so—here we are." "Basil is a naturalist at heart," suggested Paul Willing. He wants to see the local fauna in their native habitat after catching a glimpse of them at Dr. Zimmer's the other evening."

Cynthia preferred to linger at the bar and Basil sat beside her. Beyond he caught a glimpse of slim shoulders and a sleek gray head. Basil did not recognize the man until he turned his head and said, "Good evening."

"Cynthia, do you know Brinsley Shaw?"

Cynthia smiled and shook her head.

"Then may I introduce him? Mrs. Willing, my sister-in-law."

Brinsley asked Cynthia to dance.

Actually it was nearly 10 when Isolde and Bert Canning came into the clubhouse. Isolde's dress caught Basil's eye—a sort, strapless sheath of vermilion lace worn with satin slippers dyed the same flame color.

Canning, beside her, said nothing, but the bartender brought him a double brandy, evidently a standing order. Isolde's bright black eyes roved the room and alighted on Basil. She spoke to Canning. He gave Basil the briefest of nods.

A SLIM figure strolled through the archway from the dance floor—Brinsley Shaw. He hastened his step as he saw Isolde. She held out both hands and he took them eagerly. Then he turned to clap Canning lightly on the shoulder and even Canning smiled a little.

Gisela and Cynthia were both dancing now and Paul had found some friends of his own. Basil picked up his own glass and moved to the stool Isolde had left vacant. Canning spoke without looking up.

"My wife says you were at Max Zimmer's one evening a few days ago but I don't remember your name."

"Willing."

Canning turned to stare at Basil. "The Willing who works with the District Attorney's office."

"Yes."

"What are you doing here?" "Amusing myself."

The General Gets Around

Davis, eminent patent attorney, remarked at a recent meeting of the defense mobilization committee:

"It's the Supreme Court's job to save the Constitution, but it's the President's job to save the country."

Texas Blood

If there was any way to get blood out of the proverbial turnip, the American Red Cross is ready to admit that live-wire, young Congressman Olin Teague of Texas would find it.

Teague has the Red Cross bloodmobiles dashing like mad all over the nation's capital since he launched a drive, as president of the Texas State Society, to raise 1,000 pints of blood for the wounded in Korea.

"The good people who are giving the blood deserve the credit, not me," reminisces Teague, who won three Silver Stars and two Bronze Stars for World War II combat bravery, plus three Purple Hearts. "But as for myself I guess maybe I'm settling an old account."

"I was given 10 pints of blood while hospitalized 23 months, and believe me, I know how much this means to men in Korea whose lives also are being saved by blood donors."

Washington's large bloc of Texans, including the Lone Star delegation in Congress, are donating most of the state society's 1,000-pint goal, but Teague doesn't draw the line. When a Red Cross bloodmobile visited Congress the other day, two iron curtain escapees and a Chinese gave a pint each "for Texas."

Not to be outdone, Brian Bell, Jr., of the Associated Press rushed over to add another pint.

"It's as fair for one foreigner to give blood to Texas as another," quipped Bell, a citizen of voteless District of Columbia.

However, Teague and his helpers were astounded when Ray Allen of Marshall, Texas, offered a quart of blood "provided you take it out of my left leg." It developed that Allen, an airborne infantry hero who was shot up at Bastogne, had an artificial left leg.

Finally Allen compromised by giving a pint from his left arm.

Judge Speaks on Press Freedom, Keeps Brake On Power in Public

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP)—The natural reaction of public officials to overcome criticism is by power, Judge J. Bernard Cooke of New Orleans declared in a speech on freedom of the press.

"If their efforts are successful, they acquire greater power, and resentment and resistance are correspondingly increased," he said yesterday.

Judge Cooke, who recently acquitted five Lake Charles newsmen accused of defaming 16 public officials and three gamblers, addressed the annual Louisiana Bar Association meeting here.

He said all individual freedom must perish if freedom of the press should die, and added: "The press itself is the principle guardian of its own freedom."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

U. S. Supreme Court Hears Arguments on HST Powers

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1951, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON—When the nine black-robed justices of the Supreme Court assemble today, they will not hear arguments merely on seizure of the steel mills. They will also have echoing in the background of the court chamber 150 years of argument over the same vital question of the president's power and where does it stop.

They will likewise have as precedents at least four famed Republicans who did pretty much the same thing as Mr. Truman, Democrat.

It's possible that the Supreme Court may try to duck this basic issue. If so, they have an easy way out. They can cite their own opinion in 1867 when the state of Mississippi sought an injunction against President Andrew Johnson to prevent him from "reconstructing" Mississippi's government, and when the court ruled that no court has the power to enjoin the President of the United States.

Therefore, the Supreme Court today, citing this, could find that Judge Pine had no right to enjoin Secretary of Commerce Sawyer who was carrying out the direct orders of the President.

This, however, would not decide the fundamental issue of the President's power—a debate which began about the time the constitution was written and which has probably found more Republicans than Democrats upholding the powers now claimed by Mr. Truman. Here are some of them.

Illegal War With France
Republican No. 1 to side with Mr. Truman was none other than the founder of the party, Alexander Hamilton. Hamilton went so far as to claim that the President of the United States had just as great power as the King of England when he ruled the 13 colonies. Among other things, Hamilton declared that, though the constitution gives Congress the power to declare war, the President also has the power to make or declare war without the consent of Congress.

Republican No. 2 was President John Adams who conducted an undeclared naval war with France in 1798. He even recalled George Washington from retirement at confronted with a nation-wide anthracite strike. There was no war on and no emergency. However, Teddy felt that the strike threatened the national welfare and that the coal operators, because of their obstinate anti-unionism, were responsible.

So Teddy sent word to J. P. Morgan, that if government proposals for settlement were not accepted, he would order federal troops to seize and operate the mines.

J. P. Morgan, less combative than the steel masters of 1952, persuaded the coal operators to yield. Seizure was averted.

Aside from these distinguished Republicans, the Supreme Court will doubtless examine some interesting precedents by Democrats, among them, Andrew Jackson who flouted the will of Congress regarding the Bank of the United States; to say nothing of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Several times Roosevelt ordered the seizure of strike-bound plants not only during the war, but prior to war.

Most notable case came shortly before Pearl Harbor when he seized the North American Aviation plant in California after Communist sympathizers called a strike in the fall of 1940. FDR promptly ordered the army to take over.

Another drastic seizure by Roosevelt was the internment of more than 100,000 West Coast Japanese-Americans in 1942. Though most of them were American born, Roosevelt rooted them up from the west coast and sent them to internment camps in the Rocky Mountain states. Much of their property was left behind.

He did this without an O. K. from Congress, though later the Supreme Court voted to uphold him.

These are some of the things the nine justices will have in their minds when they listen to arguments on the steel seizure today. This is also why grizzled Will

Arctic Secrets Found by Crew Of Polar Plane

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The daring North Pole Air Force plane-landing party has uncovered more of the arctic's secrets.

One, a cache left by the Rear Adm. Robert E. Peary expeditions in the early 1900s, had lain hidden nearly a half century. Others, scientific secrets, are as old as the arctic itself.

The Air Force told today of more of the work done by scientists and observers on the historic flight May 4 in which Lt. Col. William P. Benedict, of Pasadena, Calif., landed a C-47 and took off three hours and 10 minutes later from the geographic North Pole.

These were some of the results:

The depth of the ocean below the ice was determined by a seismograph echo sounding at 14,150 feet. Dr. Albert P. Crary and his assistant, Robert Cottell, of the Cambridge Research Center, Cambridge, Mass., bored a 10-foot hole in a thick ice floe and dropped two pounds of TNT and exploded it in the experiment.

The annual spring thaw was opening great cracks in the pack ice forming the polar ice cap. M. S. Edson Blair, Los Angeles, said new leads varying from a few feet to several hundred feet in width were opening on every side of the ice flow upon which the C-47 sat.

It was only by sheer coincidence, Sgt. Blair reported, that such an area, roughly a half mile in size, was free from the pressure ridges at the geographical pole.

The Adm. Peary cache was found on one of the plane's flights and landings over the region. The plane was traveling at low altitude over Cape Columbia, Ellesmere Island, where the Peary expeditions left the last land to start a 500-mile trek over the ice.

The cache was spotted and upon landing the party found it contained names and dates between 1900 and 1909. There were four metal and wood boxes.

In other work, the expedition left at the North Pole six watertight glass jars, wrapped in eye-catching luminescent red silk. The jars contained notes about the expedition and any finders were asked to record the date and position found and report to the Air Force Research Center. Such information may supply information on the speed and direction of little-known Arctic Ocean currents.

The position of the floe as the geographic North Pole was verified by the navigator, 1st Lt. Herbert Thompson, Altonwood, Kan., by training his sextant on the sun.

Hobson Action Before Crash Told In Court

BAYONNE, N. J., (AP)—The destroyer-minesweeper Hobson's combat officers asked the ship's bridge "What the hell's going on up there?" when the Hobson was slow to make a turn just before it collided with the aircraft carrier Wasp, a naval court of inquiry heard today.

Lt. (jg) Donald E. Cummings of Encinas, Calif., second witness before the court, said he was on the Hobson's bridge with Lt. William A. Hofer and the vessel's skipper, Lt. Comdr. William J. Tierney, at the time.

Tierney was one of the 175 Hobson men lost in the mid-Atlantic collision April 26. The Hobson was cut in two and sank in four minutes.

Cummings said he was junior officer of the deck on the Hobson. He said shortly before the collision, the ship's combat officers, below the bridge, called up to find out why the destroyer was so slow to get in line with the Wasp, which had just signaled it was making a turn.

Lt. Nolan P. Chipman, counsel for Lt. Robert T. Herbst, asked, "Didn't they say 'what the hell's going on up there'?" Herbst was deck officer of the Wasp.

Cummings replied the query was in language somewhat stronger than the usual Navy phraseology.

Leigh asked Cummings what course the Hobson was on at the time of the collision and Cummings answered he didn't know.

"Don't you know it was part of your job as junior officer of the day to keep informed on the course?" Leigh asked.

Cummings who testified he was on the Hobson six days, said he did not know it at the time but knows it now.

"What were you concerned about at the time?" Leigh asked.

Cummings said "I was only concerned with keeping out of the way of the people who were running the ship, and observing what they were doing for training purposes."

Earlier, Hofer, senior surviving officer of the Hobson, testified Tierney ignored his course calculations and instead ordered a turn in the opposite direction, bringing the Hobson under the knife-like bow of the Wasp.

World Civilian Goods Production Increased

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The world's production of civilian goods increased in 1951 despite predictions of many leading economists that consumers would be hard hit by the global rearmament race.

This was a major point brought out in the annual United Nations economic survey put out last night. It said rearmament had failed to reach expected goals and that production for civilian markets, as a result, had risen in many communities.

Says Gen. Mac Almost Kayo'd Reds In Korea

BALTIMORE (AP)—One of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's former high aides says that the ousted Far Eastern commander knew from an intercepted enemy message that he had the Communists just about knocked out in Korea.

As a result, said Brig. Gen. Bonner Fellers (ret.), MacArthur proposed that the Reds "talk truce or cease-fire."

Fellers, former chief of psychological warfare for MacArthur, told of the mysterious note in a recorded speech last night. The talk had been given earlier at an American Legion meeting here. It was rebroadcast in part over radio station WFBR.

MacArthur was supreme commander of Allied forces in the Far East at the time Fellers said the message was intercepted. The former aide stated it was sent by Communist troop commanders intended for headquarters in Peking.

Fellers quoted the message translated as:

"We are out of ammunition. We are in a very untenable position at the front. Our losses are terrific. We've got to have supplies and we've got to have air power. Get us a cease-fire until we can build up."

"As a result of that message," Fellers said in the broadcast, "MacArthur asked his opposite number, the Chinese commander, to talk truce or cease-fire."

"This was one of the reasons MacArthur was lifted out. They said he was a military commander."

President Truman fired MacArthur 13 months ago after the general had advocated a stepped-up war against the Chinese Communists.

A spokesman for MacArthur said in New York last night neither he nor the general had seen the speech and had no immediate comment.

We the Satellites—III

Poland, Held In Iron Hand of Reds, Is Particularly Valuable to Joe

Editors Note: Chaotic conditions, and the grim overcast of fear, rule today in the European countries which Stalin has turned into colonies.

Of the satellites, Poland is particularly valuable to Stalin because it provides a bridge to Germany and the riches that lie beyond. How are things in Poland today? William L. Ryan interviewed scores of persons abroad and in the United States to present below the best available information. This is the third in a series of five articles on the satellites.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The spark of liberty still glows in subjugated Poland. Many a Polish peasant risks his freedom and even his life to keep the spark aglow. Many a city dweller takes a long chance to give expression to his contempt for the Communists who are Moscow's willing tools.

Against the might of Soviet arms, against an army run by Russian officers and a secret police system which honeycombs the nation with spies, the Polish resistance is pathetically weak. But it is there — and it lives in hope that some day it will have help.

Even the kids in the streets of

For more than seven years Stalin has been twisting the screws on Poland, transforming it into a Soviet colony. The Kremlin has installed a Soviet marshal with double Russian and Polish citizen-

Polish cities reflect sullen, bitter mockery for those who are Moscow's willing tools.

Kids still imitate American ways, to the rage of the party. They go to extremes to try to dress American style and act like Americans, and the party rants about "Western decadence."

There used to be American movies in Warsaw. Now there is nothing much but Soviet propaganda. The movie houses showing the Soviet films are almost empty, except when mass attendance is ordered by the party. Even then, from the darkness of the movie house come jeers and catcalls at Moscow propaganda.

They are still resisting on the farms. The stubborn Polish farmers shy away from collectivization. The government, fearing the consequences, must proceed slowly. Only about 5 per cent of Poland's peasants are on collective farms and 10 per cent more on state farms which are bigger. Most of these are in former German territory.

They are resisting in the forests and in the factories. A guess is that 60,000 persons are actively engaged in underground work in Poland. These include members of the Pak (Polska Armia Krajowa, or Polish Home Army) and the Roak, a movement which makes armed stabs against Communists. There have been arrests, trials and executions, but still the cells of resistance go on, working in units of three in attempts to escape detection.

Humiliation of Communists is a Roak weapon. In one instance, Roak fighters seized a Communist official and stripped him. They sent the clothing to the local Communist leader with a letter telling of the incident. The story spread. In another instance, partisans invaded the home of a Communist village mayor, locked his family in the cellar and beat him up.

Many partisans have escaped from labor camps. They live off the land and peasants help them.

Enraged, the U.S. dread secret police, stages frequent roundups, frequent invasions of homes in the dead of night. Party activists also are sent out on spot checks and similar missions to root out partisans.

But the secret police fear enemies in their own ranks. U.S. agents spy upon one another. Many other spies are hired, some of them youngsters under 16.

The liaison department of the Foreign Ministry is controlled by the secret police, and so is the special school for training lower personnel and officials of the Foreign Ministry.

The system is one of terror. Its chief weapon is a chain of prisons and concentration camps.

The U.S. and its companion police organization, the K.B.W., or security force, are not responsible to the government. Like the Army of 500,000 or more, the police units come under Konstantin Rokossovsky, a Soviet Army marshal who is now Poland's defense minister and Moscow's viceroy.

The party is laced with suspicion. Wladislaw Gomulka, former vice premier, awaits trial for "Titoism." Jailed also is the former Army commander, Gen. Marian Spychalski. There had been reports that Hilary Mine, the Communists' economic boss, was in trouble too. But he is still riding high, after bowing to Moscow's demands to push through some unpopular measures.

Many Poles still hope for a day of liberation. The hope is shared by exiled leaders, Stanislaw Mikojczyk, former Premier and head of the Polish Peasant party, is an exile in the United States. He puts it this way:

"It does not matter when, where or why the beginning of the liberation will come, but one thing is sure: Our people believe it will come, and they are able to endure the terror and intimidation. And surely in the decisive moment, they will rise up and help in the liberation of their country."

Crop Prospects Look Better, May Set Record

WASHINGTON (AP)—Crop production prospects have brightened during the past three weeks to raise government hopes that this year's harvest of food and fiber crops may set a record after all.

A month ago prospects were not good because unfavorable weather had retarded spring planting. But a new crop survey made by the Agriculture Department said conditions have improved greatly and crops are now normal or advanced in most areas of the country.

A wheat crop which may be the second or third largest of record was said to be indicated. The winter wheat portion of the crop was forecast at 986 million bushels. An average spring wheat crop would give a total combined crop of about 1,293,000,000 bushels. Only in 1947 and 1948 were larger wheat crops harvested.

But there is a possibility the spring wheat crop may be considerably larger than normal. In that event, it would be possible for total wheat production to exceed the second largest, 1,313,000,000 produced in 1948.

By comparison, total wheat production last year was only 987 million bushels. The government had set a 1952 goal of 1,165,000,000.

Officials said the big wheat harvest would in all likelihood be accompanied by a sharp reduction in grower prices at harvest time. The decline would be limited by the government's price support program.

The department said it appears likely farmers will plant a larger acreage to corn than had been indicated by a planting survey in March. The government has appealed for more corn to meet demands of an expanding meat animal industry.

The department said conditions were among the brightest of record for oats in southern states, fall-sown barley and hay meadows and pastures.

A southern peach crop about the size of last year's harvest was forecast.

A larger acreage of truck crops for the fresh market this summer also was said to have been planned.

Urge Efficient Fertilizer Use

The main job facing farmers in the coming years is to increase production of agricultural commodities substantially and at the same time to build up the productive capacity of the soil, Secretary of Agriculture Chas. F. Brannon said recently.

Increased use of fertilizers in conjunction with other essential agricultural practices is essential in accomplishing this job, the secretary said, and the Department of Agriculture has been working for substantial increases in fertilizer production. By 1955, the defense production goals seek 70 per cent more nitrogen, 55 per cent more phosphate and over 30 per cent more potash.

Now, it looks as though the nitrogen and potash goals will be met. Because of the sulphur shortage, however, it will be difficult to reach the phosphate production goal.

For the 1952 crop, about 5 per cent more potash and 3 per cent less phosphate are expected to be available. Phosphate should be more plentiful by 1954 and 1955, although probably below the levels requested by the department. Nitrogen fertilizer supplies may be about 17 per cent higher for 1952-53 than for 1950-51, 35 per cent higher for 1953-54, and 70 per cent higher for 1954-55.

The secretary pointed out that a vigorous coordinated effort — by department, state and private groups — will be necessary to get the increased supplies of needed fertilizer used properly and efficiently. As soon as the plan is developed by the department, working in cooperation with state and private agencies, Agricultural Mobilization Committees will be asked to take appropriate action in supporting it.

Bale Tie Supply Now Improving

"The outlook on supply of bale ties and coiled wire for the 1952 harvest season is considerably improved over last year, according to a report received recently from the State Mobilization Committee," states James A. Harvey, chairman of the Pettis County Agricultural Mobilization Committee. "This report advises us that the production of bale ties and coiled wire in 1951 was 217,000 tons as compared with 134,000 tons produced in 1950, or an increase of 61 per cent. Production was maintained at high level throughout the year and during the fourth quarter 55,000 tons were produced, compared with 30,000 tons in the fourth quarter of 1950. Consequently, on a national basis there would appear to be an adequate supply of baling wire of both types, and we started the year 1952 probably in the best position in which we have started any year since 1947."

In view of the numerous types of coiled wire now being used in various makes of balers it is understanding if dealers hesitate to stock large quantities far in advance of demand.

With this in mind, Harvey advises that it is quite desirable for farmers to (1) appraise their needs for wire, (2) place their orders early, and (3) accept deliveries as soon as the wire becomes available locally so that the wire will be sure to be on the farm when the time comes for its use.

Club's Wayne Attwood To State Club Week

The Lincoln 4-H Club met Wednesday night at the school auditorium with Wayne Attwood acting as chairman in the absence of both the president and vice-president.

A report on the 4-H Council held at Warsaw Saturday was given by Mrs. Norman Gerken, local project leader, and Robin Suhli gave an account of the American Royal Dairy Show and Rodeo which he attended at Kansas City Tuesday.

It was announced that Wayne Attwood was elected to attend the state club week which will be held in Columbia the first week in June.

The next meeting of the group will be a tour of livestock projects with moving pictures taken of the various homes and projects. A picnic supper will follow.

Misses Kay Owens and Eleanor Berry will present a demonstration on "picnic sandwiches" at the Bethel club meeting. Junita Roberts and Linda Kroenke will demonstrate the correct methods to measure.

Jersey Parish Show May 23

The annual Jersey show for Parish No. 7 will be held at Holden, Johnson County, on May 23, according to H. F. O'Neill, a local Jersey breeder. Mr. O'Neill, who is a director for this county, says that there is promise of a good show this year. "The Holden Chamber of Commerce is cooperating and we are planning a basket dinner in connection with the all-day affair," O'Neill says.

The 1952 Parish No. 7 Show will include 24 classes including junior champion and grand champion awards. To enter animals in the show, there are certain regulations that should be met, claims O'Neill.

All animals must be registered or eligible for registry in the national breed association. In order to be catalogued, entries must be sent to the district secretary ten days before the show. However, animals may be shown without being catalogued. Registration papers shall be available in the State health laws and requirements regarding moving of cattle shall apply.

Animals must be on the grounds by 9 a. m.

Cartwright School Graduation: Rev. Chaney Speaks

Commencement exercises were held at Cartwright school on Friday night, May 9. The room was decorated in green and yellow, with baskets of spiraea and iris against the wine curtains at the front of the room. As the processionary march was played by Mrs. Grover Meeker, the graduating class and those on the program marched in, led by little Sharon Todd with the basket of diplomas.

A welcome was given by the teacher, Mrs. J. E. Kent, who introduced the speaker of the evening, the Rev. Harlow W. Chaney, who gave the invocation. The Nelson High School quartet, composed of Mary Yordaman, Elaine Doty, Don Kentz and Claude Harper, with Mrs. Virgil Verts, accompanist, sang, "Bell of St. Mary's" and "Sleep, Kentucky Babe."

The address by the Rev. Chaney was based on the lines from Philipians, "Those things, which ye have learned, do."

Following this address, C. F. Scotten, county superintendent, made the presentation speech and, with the assistance of Sharon Todd, gave the diplomas to the graduates: Sylvia Harper, Danny Kearney and Larry Todd. The program closed with the song "A Perfect Day," sung by Clay Kilgus Jr., and James Reardon, with Mrs. Meeker as accompanist, and the benediction, given by the Rev. Chaney.

Askew Pasture Increases Milk Production by Some 13 Pct.

By Merle Vaughan

Wilbur Askew was telling me the other night about the 13 per cent increase in milk they received when they turned their 24 cows on a fresh new pasture. The herd increased from 11½ cans to 13 cans of milk per day.

The Askews, Wilbur and Raymond whose farm is just north-east of La Monte, seeded about 30 acres of new pasture last fall.

The first 20 acres were treated according to soil test and seeded to orchard, ladino and timothy with a nurse crop of rye in August. The other nine acres were treated similarly and seeded a month later but no nurse crop was used.

The rye made a lot of pasture last fall and this spring and the orchard grass and ladino has also made some pasture on the 20 acres. The nine acres had not been pastured until recently and when Bill Murphy, extension field crop specialist, saw it in the middle of April he suggested it be pastured some to keep it from getting too rank.

It was when the cows were turned from one improved pasture to the next that the jump of 13 gallons (1½ cans) of milk was obtained. If the cattle had been moving from bluegrass to the improved pasture the spread in production would probably have been larger. This likely would have been true because the cattle probably would not have been producing as much on bluegrass as they were on the rye.

Rotate Pastures For Best Results
This is another opportunity to mention that best results have been forth coming on permanent pastures when about three can be used in rotation. As soon as the cattle are moved the pasture is clipped about four inches high. Then when the cattle are moved back in about two or three weeks the growth is of even height and grazing over the whole area instead of in patches.

Terraces at Fickens
W. J. Ficken of Smithton and his son, Billy, recently had about 4,000 feet of terraces built. These terraces were staked out last fall but cold weather prevented their construction. The entire footage was added on the upper end of old terraces which were extended back through a hedge and into an old pasture. The addition nearly doubles the size of the field and brings into production some land that has produced very little recently. One terrace also provides a spillway for a new pond built 2 years ago. Jack Fischer, local terracing contractor, did the work.

Multiflora Rose Looking Well
I was out to Elmer Curtis staking some terrace lines in a hog pasture recently. While there I had the opportunity to see the multiflora rose the Curtis' had planted along a terrace outlet and on a terrace between two future hog pastures. This rose was set a year ago and has made a fine growth.

There is a planting at Melvin Turners that can be seen from the road. It is a pond about a half mile west of Gasoline Alley on the south side of Highway 50. I also have a hedge of it at my place.

Orval Surks Winner Of Jalopy Race

The modified jalopy races ran Sunday at the State Fair grounds on the half-mile track proved out to be another afternoon of thrills for more than 2,000 ardent race fans. Orval Surks, Kansas City, proved the best in the 40-lap event which was the feature on the program, besides giving the fans a last minute thrill.

Surks Led The Field
Surks led the field for the 40-laps and after crossing the finish line, an axle broke upsetting the car in front of the crowd. When the car settled down, Surks climbed out without a scratch.

Bob "Crash" Williams, of the K. C. Auto Salvage Co., who has had an "itching" to drive in jalopy races for sometime didn't do so well but provided an unexpected thrill for the fans and a surprise for himself. Williams went ripping around the track on the first lap and on the second, added extra expense to the promotion by tearing out some fence along the track and eliminating his car from the race.

Padgett Crashes Car

One of the most spectacular thrills came during the main race when Claude "Suicide" Padgett, Marshall, took the worse spill of the day. Padgett was ahead of a car of Henry Powell, Warsaw, when the Warsaw car clipped the back end of Padgett's vehicle. The car went into the air turning over in midair and went crashing down on its top in the middle of the track. Luckily no other car crashed into the Padgett vehicle.

Bob Paxton driving Jerry Brown's jalopy went through the fence to rip out more boards.

Results

Second heat, 10-laps: John Ritt, Kansas City, first; Kenneth Carpenter, Oak Grove, second; Wilbur Manning, Higginsville, third.
Third heat, 10-laps: Ray Cox, Liberty, first; Billy Murphy, Kansas City, second; Joe Schurich, Tipton, third.

Betsy Rawls Into Cross-Country Golf Lead Sunday

SEATTLE —Betsy Rawls, a quiet Texan with a talkative putter, was looking today for some way to "wrap up this Broadmoor golf course and take it with me."

The straight shooter from Austin knocked a stroke off men's par of 70 at Broadmoor Sunday. She tacked this 69 on an even 70 of the day before and the 139 total was good for first place in the Seattle leg of the cross-country Weather-vane open tournament.

Good enough? It was so good that the second-place finishers—Alice and Marlene Bauer of Sarasota, Fla.—were 11 strokes back with 150s. It was so good it sent Betsy into first place in the Weather-vane by nine strokes after she had started the Seattle tourney seven strokes behind Babe Didrikson Zaharias.

The babe, dogged by tough luck, chickened as she picked up the 800 check for last money in the $3,000 payoff. "I guess there has to be a first time for everything, and I'm glad to get the sixty."

The touring professionals now go to New York to wind up the tourney with 36 holes May 31-June 1.

Sports Roundup—Field for Palm Beach Tourney So Good Locke Failed It

NEW YORK (AP)—Some idea of the fantastic class of the field which will compete in the Palm Beach Round Robin Golf Tournament at New Rochelle this week may be gained from the fact that Bobby Locke of South Africa, a mighty fine club-swinger, failed to make the grade and will be employed only as an alternate player and assistant radio commentator.

Blues Back Into Second Place With 13-1 Sunday Win

By The Associated Press

The red-hot Kansas City Blues smashed Indianapolis 13-1 Sunday to move back into second-place of the American Association race as leading Milwaukee swept a double header from Louisville.

Kansas City remained 1 1/2 games behind the Brewers while Louisville dropped from second to third, three games off the pace and 1/2 game ahead of fourth-place Cincinnati in the torrid first division struggle.

Columbus' doubleheader at Minneapolis and Toledo's at St. Paul were rained out.

The Blues have won 12 of their last 15 starts since beginning their surge from the second division and have lost only once in their last nine games.

Milwaukee blasted Louisville 13-2 with Johnny Logan slugging a grand slam homer to cap a six-run first inning off Rush Kemmerer.

George Eitcock twirled a six-hit shutout as Milwaukee won the afterpiece 3-0.

Schlitz Leaders Drop First Game Sunday

The Schlitz Leaders dropped their first game Sunday to the CMSC softballers of Warrensburg, 5 to 6, in a game played on the Center Park diamond. It was played under the lights.

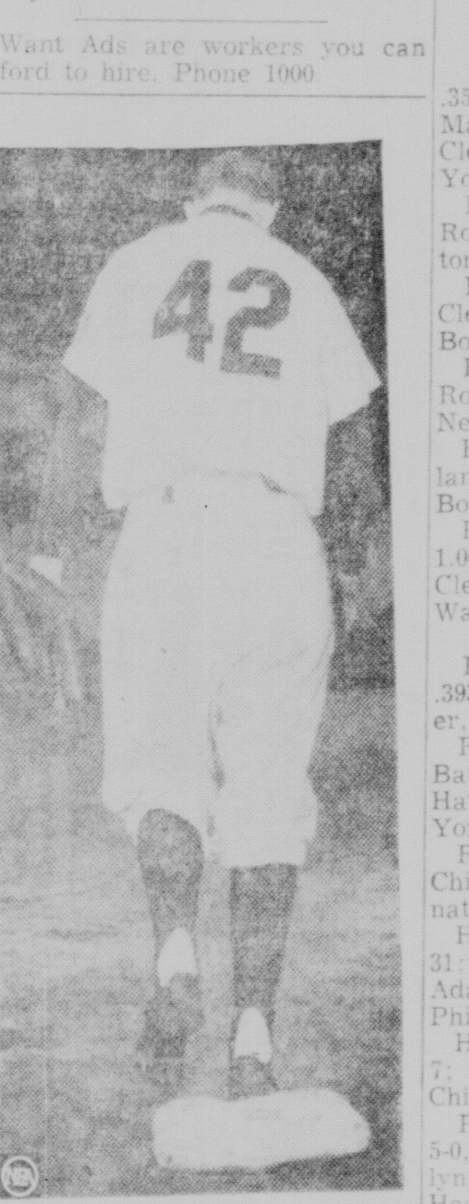

It being the first game for the Leaders, the team appeared "rusty" in spots but is shaping into a strong ball club. The game was more of a practice tilt for the Sedalia team, enabling them to get into shape for the league play which is coming up.

Ottumwa won on the CMSC mound with Murray behind the plate. Sanders hurled for the Leaders with Swisher on the receiving end.

Tuesday night the Leaders will cross bats with the Marshall C. C. at Center Park. Game time has been set at 8 p.m.

A practice session for the Sedalia team will be held at 5:30 p.m. today.

Lively Ball Seems Extinct; Hitters Cry

By JOE REICHERL AP Sports Writer

What happened to the lively ball? Like the dodo bird, it appears to have become extinct.

Remember when those pitchers were waiting about too much jack-rabbit in the ball? That was too long ago. Now the hitters are doing the moaning and groaning. And with good reason.

Just look at these figures of futility on the part of the batters. The major league season is less than a month old and already 28 shutouts have been pitched. American League hurlers, who have turned in 17 whitewashings jobs, have spun seven 1-0 games to equal their full-season total of 1931. But National League pitchers are far behind last year's thirteen 1-0 games. Only Cincinnati's Dutch Hiller has done it this season.

Bob Lemon of Cleveland and Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees pitched brilliant 1-0 shutouts yesterday. That boosted the total of low-hit games this year to 35. Not so long ago, Bob Feller of Cleveland, Bob Cain of St. Louis Browns and Art Houten of Detroit, buried one-hitters. There have been nine two-hitters, nine three-hitters and 14 four-hitters.

Only four home runs were hit yesterday. That raised the two leagues' total to 217, exactly 70 fewer than the 287 hit last year at a corresponding date.

Lemon's two-hit victory was followed by Mike Garcia's eight-hit 3-1 triumph that enabled the Indians to sweep a doubleheader from the Browns and increase their American League lead to two games over the runner-up Washington Senators and Boston Red Sox. Lemon was extended to the limit. Ned Garver, Brownie ace, yielded only four hits himself. Three of them came in the last half of the ninth to furnish the only run. Dale Mitchell's two-out single with the bases loaded broke up the mound duel.

The Indians collected only five hits off Loner Cain and two relievers in the second game but made them all count for Garcia's fourth victory.

Only hits the Red Sox got yesterday were first-inning singles by Dom DiMaggio and Vern Stephens as the Yankee rightshander registered his 1-0 triumph at the expense of Mel Parrell.

The Senators swept past Boston by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics, 5-2, in 11 innings of the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. Rain washed out the second tilt after two scoreless innings.

The Tigers snapped their seven-game losing streak nipping Chicago, 2-1, after the White Sox had won the first game of the doubleheader, 6-5. Rookie George Leshchen's eight-inning single drove Johnny Lipon home from second with the winning Tiger run in the eighth.

The Dodgers whittled New York's National League lead to one game, edging out Philadelphia, 4-3, in 10 innings. Philly misplays played a large part in Brooklyn's victory.

The scheduled walk-off two homers and a single to lead the Cincinnati Reds to an 8-5 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals. Southpaw Harry Perkowski won his third game for the Reds, who moved into a third-place tie with the Chicago Cubs.

Chicago split a twin bill with Pittsburgh. The Pirates, who had lost 20 of 24 starts, rallied to whip the Bruins, 11-2, after losing the opener, 8-2.

The scheduled doubleheader between the Giants and Braves in Boston was postponed because of rain.

Jensen Hits .405

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ex-Yankee Jackie Jensen is hitting at a hot 405 clip since joining the Washington Senators nine days ago. Jensen has connected for 15 hits in 37 tries as a Senator and has brought his batting average up to .364. He was able to collect only two hits in 19 at bats for the New Yorkers.

Kiner Bats .217

CHICAGO (AP)—Slump-ridden Ralph Kiner is batting only .217 today following his six hitless efforts in yesterday's twin-bill against the Cubs. The Pirates' outfielder, who has led the National League in home runs six consecutive years, has hit only two of his specialties this season.

Browns Home, Cards on Trip; Lose Sunday

By The Associated Press

The St. Louis Browns open a 19-game home stand against Philadelphia tomorrow night, coming home with a 300 won-lost record after losing a couple of tough decisions to Cleveland in a doubleheader yesterday.

The league-leading Indians and Bob Lemon outdueled the Browns and Ned Garver 1-0 in the opener, and Mike Garcia pitched Cleveland to a 3-1 victory in the second game.

Both Lemon and Garver had one-hitters going into the ninth. Lemon gave up only one more, protecting his shutout. The Indians connected for three hits in the final inning. Dale Mitchell's singling across the lone run with the bases loaded and two out.

Bob Cain was the loser in the second game, yielding two runs before he was lifted for a pinch hitter in the fourth. The Browns outnift the Indians 8 to 5 but left 12 men stranded.

Playing the last game at Sportsman's Park until June 1, the Cardinals were beaten 8-5 by the Cincinnati Reds on a cold, rainy afternoon as Joe Adcock of the Reds hit successive home runs in the second and fourth innings.

Adcock also had a single and thus wound up the three-game series with six hits, including three homers and a double, and six runs batted in. The defeat was charged against Cloyd Boyer, the first of three Cardinal pitchers. Boyer had pitched scoreless ball for 11 previous innings.

Red Schoendienst doubled twice for the Cardinals and drove in three of the runs. Harry Lowery also had two hits.

Cardinal catcher Del Rice was put out of the game in the fifth when umpire Lou Jorda took exception to the way in which he protested a strike called against him.

Jim Carter Feels Salas Can't Win By Running Away

By The Associated Press

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Challenger Lauro Salas of Mexico can take the for what it's worth, but here's a thought from the camp of World Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter.

"Salas can't win the title by running and hiding. We hope he makes a fight out of it instead of a track meet."

Official spokesman for Carter was his manager, Willie Ketchum, who elaborated, referring to the 15-round title scrap Wednesday night:

"Jab, hold and run. You can't win a fight that way. That's what Salas did last time. That's what he's doing now." Ketchum shifted the cigar in his mouth and thumbed toward the ring where Lauro was sparring with another Salas, Charles, a welterweight from Arizona.

Perhaps, a listener interrupted. Carter merely hopes to gaud the young Mexican from Monterrey into a mutual head-bunting spree, Jimmy being the heavier hitter.

Ketchum maintained an expressionless face, but said: "If a fighter just wants to last the distance, to say he went 15 rounds with the champion, all he has to do is run away and hide. But you don't win no titles that way."

Later Salas' manager, youthful Roger Leighton, retorted: "Let Carter fight his fight. We'll fight ours. But we aren't going in there just to go 15 rounds. We're in there to win the championship. Lauro gave Carter all he wanted in their other fight. He'll do even more this time."

Last April 1 Carter won a unanimous decision in 15 rounds over the fiery gamester from below the border.

DETROIT (AP)—Big Steve Souchock of the Detroit Tigers is a handy guy for Manager Red Rolfe to have around. Souchock already has played four positions for the Bengals this season—left field, right field, third base and first base. He performed at the initial sack in yesterday's doubleheader against the Chicago White Sox and cleanly handled 21 chances.

More Errors, But Win More Games Is A's New Way

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics, who tied for last year's American League fielding championship, are making more errors and less double plays this year—prompting Manager Jimmy Dykes to say, "So what?"

Dykes is one of those managers who is willing to trade double plays for victories. "We have less double plays and more victories. That's bad!"

The Philadelphia skipper got into the subject of fielding after his club lost two straight because fielders missed pop flies that major leaguers are expected to catch a hundred out of a hundred times.

On Saturday, with two out and two Washington Senators on base, the usually reliable Philadelphia first baseman Ferris Fain charged in for a pop near the pitcher's box. He dropped it. The next batter singled home two runs to win for the Senators.

Dykes hadn't finished bawling his head against his locker before lightning struck again. The bases were loaded in the 11th of yesterday's first game with Eddie Yost at bat. Relief pitcher Carl Scheib forced Yost to lift a high fly behind first base. As Dykes tells it, right fielder Elmer Valo raced in shouting, "I got it, I got it." Second baseman Skeeter Kell cried, "I got it." They believed each other.

Nobody got it. Yost hit the next pitch for a single and two runs to give Washington the ball game.

"Those things happen," said Dykes. "The boys hesitated and you know that he who hesitates is lost. We lost."

Springfield Bears Make Sweep of All MIAA Sport Titles

MARYVILLE, Mo. (AP)—This will go down as the grand slam year in athletics for the Southwest Missouri State Bears.

They successfully defended their MIAA track title here Saturday, taking the event with 63 points. They also won the golf and tennis championships.

Earlier in the school year the Bears shared first place in the lion's football title with North-east Missouri State College; won the basketball crown and then took the indoor track and field title.

Central State of Warrensburg, which the Bears nosed out by a single point in the indoor meet, finished second here Saturday with 51 1/2 points. Other loop members finished this way: Southwest Missouri State, Cape Girardeau, 54; Rolla School of Mines 44 1/2; Northwest Missouri State of Maryville, 18 1/2 and Northeast Missouri State of Kirksville 15 1/2.

The Bears' four-man golf team posted a 36-hole total of 631. Central State was second, Rolla third, and Northwest State fourth.

Holiday For Irish
DUBLIN, (AP)—St. Patrick's Day—March 17—is one of Ireland's three big holidays. The others are Christmas and Good Friday.
Although both a legal and religious holiday—it honors the saint who converted Ireland to Christianity—the celebrations resemble those in the United States on the Fourth of July, with parades and political speeches.
Irish pubs are closed on the three holidays, and in all the length and breadth of the Emerald Isle there's out one place to legally toast its patron saint: the Annual Dog Show at Bell's Bridge outside Dublin.
